

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGESTIONS

This chapter contains conclusions and suggestions related to research results. Conclusions are drawn from the results of the analysis of the findings in the previous chapter, then suggestions direct the next researcher to conduct similar research. Explanation of each point will be presented as follows:

A. Conclusion

Based on the research findings and discussion in chapter IV, the use of the Duolingo application increases student involvement in mobile-based vocabulary learning for class VIII A students in the 2022/2023 academic year. improvement can be seen in the results post-test which was higher than the pre-test. Furthermore, the researcher concluded that the use of the Duolingo application as a teaching medium provided a moderate effect. This evidence can be seen from the calculation of the result of vocabulary which produced a score of 89.28%, in which the Duolingo application can be categorized as having a moderate influence on students' vocabulary mastery. This research was conducted on class VIII A students for the 2023 academic year with the aim of increasing students' English involvement in learning vocabulary through the duolingo application.

B. Suggestions

The researcher would like to provide some suggestions for using this media, especially for teachers, students and other researchers for further research.

- a. For teachers, teachers must attract students' attention in ensuring students are ready before starting to learn vocabulary with the Duolingo application.

Teachers should pay more attention to students about what they need in the teaching and learning process.

- b. For students, students should be active students in the teaching and learning process. Students must have high motivation to improve their skills in learning English, students also need to practice exercises that can help students improve their English skills. Students can use Duolingo to help them learn English, with Duolingo making it easy to practice English anywhere and anytime.

- c. For the future reseacher, For other researchers, the results of this research can be used as a reference for conducting further research regarding vocabulary mastery.
