

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This section describes two parts, namely conclusions and suggestions. The conclusion section was explaining the results of the research, research objectives, and problem formulation. The second part is providing suggestions for further researchers to develop and improve the results of this research that have been presented.

A. CONCLUSION

Based on the results of the research and discussion that has been explained, in general it can be said that the design of teaching materials and worksheets for the English Village Program in this study uses the concept of a village school which is carried out in Nyayum Village for one month with 4 study meetings per week. This program was attended by elementary school students in Nyayum Village. Based on the overall results of the research findings and discussions that have been described previously, the teaching materials in the form of worksheets are used to teach English language learning to Nyayum Village Elementary School students which were developed in the ADDIE stage, namely Analysis, Design, Development, Implementation and Evaluation and also the dissemination of results. This study shows that the design of teaching materials and worksheets is effective for students.

1. The main step of this research is to analyze the needs of students in learning to develop skills in producing meaningful texts. So, material design must refer to students' needs in learning about texts. This complementary material develops according to the needs of students and is related to the teaching method used by the tutors in this study is a genre-based approach with a focus on teaching English in a social context. The concept of teaching English using a genre-based approach is explicit guidance. In addition, it also aims to increase the activeness of students learning independently with the help of tutoring from tutors. Additional material is presented in the form of a simple module as supplementary material.

2. The second step in this research is to validate the product to two material experts that was implemented for Nyayum Village students and distribute questionnaires to students who have participated in English Village during the learning carried out which aims to look at the worksheet practitioners.

B. SUGGESTION

Based on the results of this study, suggestions that can be given are as follows:

1. For educators

Educators can use the product in the form of worksheets that have been used in this study as one of the teaching materials to support learning English in learning activities so that students are more familiar with learning basic English.

2. For students

Students can use the worksheets that have been developed in this study as learning materials to find out more about the basic material for learning English as early as possible.

3. For further researchers

Other researchers who want to do further research related to designing and developing a product in the form of teaching materials, researchers need to conduct a survey first to find out the needs of students.
